Planet Health Qsilica in Harrods London

Planet Health is delighted to announce that Qsilica is now in store at Harrods in Knightsbridge, London.

Considered to be the world's most iconic luxury department store, Harrods is an international destination for buyers of premium and elite brands.

Qsilica sales in London have grown rapidly and it is now the third-highest selling product in Harrods pharmacy, only 2 months after its acceptance into the store's exclusive range.

Planet Health is a leading Australian distributor of premium, natural health products. The Qsilica range for healthy skin, hair, nails and connective tissue is Planet Health's own brand.

Following the launch of Planet Health into the UK market in January of this year, the company exhibited at the annual Natural and Organic Products Europe trade show in London 11-12 April. The trade-only show attracted 500 exhibitors and 8,000+ visitors and resulted in Planet Health opening new accounts across UK. Many enquires were also received from potential European distributors.
