Dear Sirs,

our products are released in accordance with the provisions of Italian Regulation 1223/2009 which prohibits the sale of animal-tested finished products as well as the use of animal-tested raw materials (Chapter 5 of section 18, "Animal testing").

However, there are no claims on the matter on our website and our products, as required by EU Commission Regulation No. 355/2013 of 10 July 2013 published in the Official Journal of the European Union, which states that: "Claims which convey the idea that a product has a specific benefit when this benefit is mere compliance with minimum legal requirements shall not be allowed".
